Unimas builds micro-hydro system for Kpg Pa'Ramapuh in Bario

KUCHING: The residents of Kampung Pa'Ramapuh A and B in Bario, Miri are now enjoying electricity, thanks to the micro-hydro project undertaken and completed by the Centre for Renewable Energy (CREN) of the Faculty of Engineering of the Universiti Malaysia Sarawak (Unimas).

This project under the Rural Electrification Scheme (RES) was fully sponsored by the Ministry of Energy, Green Technology and Water (KETTHA) and implemented by (CREN).

Mulu State Assemblyman Dato Gerawat Jala officiated at the launching and handing over of the project recently. Also present was Unimas Vice Chancellor Prof Dato' Mohamad Kadim Suidi.

The suitable terrain topography, coupled with the continuous flow of river water throughout the year and less logging activities in upstream areas provide the potential for micro-hydro system be developed.

Based on these, researchers at CREN applied to KETTHA to finance the project. Backed by Unimas' Micro Hydro Community Based Framework' and the encouraging commitment of the villagers, CREN was given the responsibility for controlling and managing the project.

The main objectives of the project were to build and do research on micro-hydro infrastructure, generate and supply electricity using hydropower to Kampung Pa'Ramapuh.

The project was completed in September 2015 and has since been generating electricity for the village.

Kampung Pa'Ramapuh is located in the Kelabit Highlands where the main economic activity of the villagers is farming, especially in the cultivation of paddy, citrus fruits and pineapples.

Previously, the villagers depended on diesel generators as the source of electrical power for the running of daily and economic activities. This is because the village is not connected to the main power grid.

Power generation by diesel generator has weaknesses like being too noisy and producing carbon monoxide, causing much irritation to the villagers besides the villagers having to buy diesel to run the generator.

Meanwhile, CREN has been carrying out activities such as studying, researching, designing and developing model projects to enhance the socio-economy of villagers, especially those in the interior of Sarawak.

●●●●● SETARA-2017 Overview

The Malaysia Integrated Rating for University and University College Excellence (SETARA) measures the quality of all public and private universities and university colleges, including foreign branch campuses. SETARA 2017 ratings are for higher learning institutions (HLIs) which have been in operation for at least five years and have produced one cohort of graduates at a minimum.

SETARA 2017 was developed to fulfil the national higher education aspirations as outlined in the Malaysia Education Blueprint 2015-2025 (Higher Education). The instrument supports HLIs in building strong fundamentals to deliver three core functions of universities and university colleges: (i) Teaching and Learning, (ii) Research and Innovation, and (iii) Services to Community and Industry.

SETARA 2017 has six levels of ratings, from One-Star (Poor) to Six-Stars (Outstanding) based on four criteria: (i) General, (ii) Teaching and Learning, (iii) Research, and (iv) Services. The universities and university colleges are divided into three categories: (i) Mature University, (ii) Emerging University, and (iii) University College. Each HLI is rated within its category.

The following data indicate the profile and performance of the institution:

●●●●● General Information

Unimas first varsity to use digital ID system

KUCHING: Universiti Malaysia Sarawak (Unimas) yesterday created history for being the first university in Malaysia to implement digital identification system for its students and staff.

The varsity implemented the use of Student Digital ID using QR Code.

Minister of Higher Education (MoHE) Malaysia Dato' Seri Idris Jusoh said the implementation of the Student ID using QR Code by Unimas in fact reflects its capability.

"It took only one month for Unimas to implement the Student Digital ID using QR Code. And this is something that we are proud of and we want to see other universities also using Student Digital ID," he said.

Idris disclosed this to reporters at a press conference after officiating at the varsity's Silver Jubilee
